

If My Suffering Found a Tongue-

My suffering is a song unsung

My soul a speck without a seal

If my suffering found a tongue

My name and sign it would reveal

If of my soul I found the sign

I would perceive the world's design

If this secret were in my reach

My silence would acquire speech

Sway over all created things

And the empire of both worlds be mine