

Metaphors for colour

Everything about you,
I wove into my poetry,
all I had to say was yours.

Metaphors for colour, fragrance,
beauty and goodness,
all about you.

Before you and your promises
I was supported by other things.
When I count the jewels
your pain endowed my heart
all the stars in the sky
fall in my lap.
I pray for her long life,
though she wasn't quite mine....
