

Saints and sinners

They filled the taverns, or crowded the shrines –
The greedy adopted all that became vogue.

Only we are left to entertain the Preacher –
Every pretender in the town is now a saint.

Translated by Sain Sucha