

Those people

Those were lucky folks for whom,
job was the love or love was the job.
Those were lucky folks for whom,
job and love never made them sob.
I've been busy all my life,
juggling my love and work.
Love and work had many a strife,
and the combo never could work.
After the final drastic blow,
I quit my job and left my love.
Now I take my life real slow,
And I am happy, by jove!
