

We shall see

When the mountains of cruelty and torture
Will fly like pieces of cotton
Under the feet of the governed
This earth will quake
And over the head of the ruler
When lightning will thunder
We shall see

When from God's Mecca
All the idols will be shattered
Us people standing in the mosque
Will be elevated to a higher platform
All the crowns will be tossed
All the thrones will be toppled

Then only God's name will remain
Who is both absent and present
Who is both the observer and the view itself
When the anthem of truth will be raised
Who I am and you are as well
And the people of God will reign
Who I am and you are as well

We shall see
It is necessary that we shall also see
We shall see.

We shall see

It is necessary that we shall also see

That day which has been promised

Which is written with God's ink.
