

We shall see

We shall see
Certainly we, too, shall see that day that has been promised to us

When these high mountains Of tyranny and oppression turn to fluff and evaporate

And we oppressed Beneath our feet will have this earth shiver, shake and beat And heads of rulers will be struck With crackling lightning and thunder roars.

When from this God's earth's (Kaa'ba) All falseness (icons) will be removed Then we of clean hearts-condemned by Zealots those keepers of Faith,
We, will be invited to that altar to sit and Govern-
When crowns will be thrown off- and over turned will be thrones

We shall see
Certainly we, too, shall see
that day that has been promised to us

The God's name will remain (Allah will remain)

Who is invisible and visible too

Who is the seer and is seen

There will rise one cheer- I am God!

Who I am too

and so are you

Then the masses, people of God will rule

Who I am too

and so are you

There will rise one cheer- I am God!

Who I am too

and so are you
